CACBT-ACTCC ANNUAL CONFERENCE

Is proud to present the workshop:

CBT for OCD in Children

Thursday May 10, 2018

SFU Harbour Centre, 515 W Hastings St, Vancouver, 9am-4pm, registration opens at 8:30am

PRESENTER: Professor Martin Franklin

In this workshop, Dr. Franklin will help practitioners gain fluency in the diagnosis of pediatric obsessive compulsive disorder (OCD) including the use of evidence-based diagnostic interviews and questionnaires, and to develop a strong understanding of considerations needed for differential diagnosis and comorbid diagnoses. Attendees will also gain in-depth knowledge of the principles and session-by-session content of Cognitive-Behavioral Therapy (CBT) with Exposure and Response Prevention (EX/RP) for OCD and understand the relationship between OCD and related conditions such as Tourette Syndrome

Professor Martin Franklin is an Associate Professor of Clinical Psychology in Psychiatry at the University of Pennsylvania, and Director of the Child and Adolescent OCD, Tic, Trich, and Anxiety Group (COTTAGE) in the Department of Psychiatry. He received his Ph.D. in clinical psychology from the University of Rhode Island. He has devoted his career to the study of anxiety and body-focused repetitive behaviors (such as chronic tic disorders and trichotillomania, TTM) in children and adults. His clinical and research careers have centered on these disorders, with a particular emphasis on developing and disseminating effective treatments. Dr. Franklin has published theoretical, clinical and empirical papers and chapters, as well as treatment manuals. He is actively engaged in the training of mental health professionals at the post-degree levels. He is a clinical supervisor at the University of Pennsylvania for psychology interns and for residents and fellows in psychiatry. The Perelman School of Medicine at the University of Pennsylvania recently awarded Dr. Franklin the Dean's Award for Excellence in Medical Student Teaching by an Allied Health Professional. He is a frequent invited lecturer around the United States and abroad.
